

- Rules of the Dojang
1. Salute the Korean & U.S. flag upon entering and leaving the Dojang
 2. Bow to the instructor whenever he is present.
 3. Bow to the higher rank when you meet him.
 4. Respect the instructor. He fights with you and another at all times.
 5. Respect yourself by keeping your uniform clean and pressed.
 6. Keep yourself and equipment clean at all times.
 7. Attend class regularly, study your homework and practice your techniques diligently.
 8. Respect faculty and guests with "Yes, Sir" whenever you are called upon by the instructor.
 9. Courtesy persons obligated and respect for the school by always standing at attention, by sitting straight and listening attentively.
 10. Do not talking during class.
 11. Do not smoking at all times as we consider it what a proper martial artist should be.
 12. Do not smoking and please your responsibility to a teacher and student.
- The Ten Principles of Taekwon-Do
1. Be loyal to your country.
 2. Be obedient to your parents.
 3. Be cooperative with your siblings.
 4. Be kind with your teachers or peers.
 5. Be honest to your friends.
 6. Be respectful of your nation.
 7. Be faithful to your teacher.
 8. Honor and knowledge without pretense.
 9. Master your self.
 10. Always finish what you start.

